

Market Disruption Event:

Unless otherwise agreed to between the parties in the Master Agreement, the following provisions shall apply to transactions where the Contract Price for such transaction is determined by reference to a Price Source:

If a Market Disruption Event occurs during the Determination Period, the Contract Price for the affected Trading Day(s) shall be determined by the Parties negotiating in good faith to agree on a Contract Price (or a method for determining the Contract Price); provided, however, that if the Contract Price is not so determined or the Parties cannot otherwise agree on an alternate Contract Price within three Business Days after the first Trading Day on which the Market Disruption Event occurred or existed, then the Contract Price shall be determined by each Party providing the other Party in good faith with two quotes (or one quote each, if two are not available) from independent leading dealers in the relevant market and then by taking the average of all the dealer quotes.

Definitions:

"Determination Period" means each calendar Month apart or all of which is within the Delivery Period of a transaction.

"Exchange" means, in respect of a transaction, the exchange or principal trading market specified.

"Market Disruption Event" means, with respect to any Price Source, any of the following events: (i) the failure of the Price Source to announce or publish information necessary for determining the Contract Price; (ii) the failure of trading to commence or the permanent discontinuation or material suspension of trading in the relevant options contract or commodity on the Exchange (as defined below) or in the market specified for determining a Contract Price; (iii) the temporary or permanent discontinuance or unavailability of the Price Source; (iv) the temporary or permanent closing of any Exchange specified for determining the Contract Price; or (v) a material change in the formula for or the method of determining the Contract Price.

"Price Source" means, in respect of a transaction, the publication (or such other origin of reference, including an Exchange) containing (or reporting) the specified price (or prices from which the specified price is calculated) in the transaction.

"Trading Day" means a day in respect of which the relevant Price Source published the Contract Price.

For purposes of determining the relevant prices for any day, if the price published or announced on a given day and used or to be used to determine a relevant price is subsequently corrected and the correction is published or announced by the person responsible for that publication or announcement, either party may notify the other party of (i) that correction and (ii) the amount (if any) that is payable as a result of that correction. If a party gives Notice that an amount is so payable, the party that originally either received or retained such amount will, not later than two Business Days after the effectiveness of that Notice, pay, subject to any applicable conditions precedent, to the other party that amount, together with interest at the rate set forth in the Master Agreement, for the period from and including the day on which payment originally was (or was not) made to but excluding the day of payment of the refund or payment resulting from that correction.

Other:

Best Wishes,

Signature goes here...